Determine which type of dating method you would use for each artifact.

1.) Human skeleton ________________________________
2.) Bronze spear point ________________________________
3.) Wooden wheel ________________________________
4.) Poem on papyrus scroll ________________________________
5.) Mammoth bones ________________________________
6.) Stone tools found near a fire pit ________________________________
7.) Remains of a village near a volcano ________________________________
8.) A hut built from wood ________________________________
9.) A piece of pottery ________________________________
10.) A Roman coin ________________________________

Short Answer

Imagine that 1,000 years from now a team of archaeologists discovers the remains of your home. What conclusions might they draw about life in the 21st century from the artifacts they find in your room?